DELEGATION TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS SCORES FIRST VICTORY

FELLOWMEN OF THE NEGRO RACE, Greeting:

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I have to report to you the safe arrival of the delegation from the Third International Convention of the Negro peoples of the world at the League of Nations Assembly now in session at Geneva, Switzerland. Not only has the delegation arrived safely, but we have succeeded in making a wonderful impression on the Assembly through the expose by Delegate Bellegarde, of Haiti, of the atrocities committed upon the natives of the late German colony of Southwest Africa by the British mandate. The speech of Delegate Bellegarde was a masterpiece of eloquence, which stirred the whole Assembly to an earnest endeavor to know the truth about what is being done to the native Africans by the Mandatory Powers.

With this information before the League, it is reasonable to assume that our petition, asking for the turning over of the ex-German colonies to the Negro peoples of the world under the auspices of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, will receive more favorable consideration. We can well trust our delegates to leave no stone unturned to see that better consideration is given to us through this our petition.

Professor Adam's Success

Professor Jean Joseph Adam, of Haiti, who is Secretary and interpreter to the delegation, has scored a wonderful success in influencing his countryman, Monsieur Bellegarde, to sponsor the plea for justice for the native Africans.

PROFESSOR JEAN JOSEPH ADAM OF HAITI MATCHLESS DIPLOMAT

GREAT SUCCESS AHEAD FOR U. N. I. A.

Our delegates must be given the support necessary to enable them to carry out successfully the mission on which they have been sent. It is, therefore, my duty to appeal to all divisions and chapters of the Universal Negro Improvement Association to send in immediately to Headquarters their contributions to the delegation fund. Already New York has raised its quota of three thousand dollars; Detroit has raised one thousand dollars, and several other divisions are in line with a full subscription of their quota. Let us all work together to put over this big program. It has also been arranged that the delegation, after the adjournment of the session of the League, visit several of the principal countries in Europe in the interests of the Universal Negro Improvement Association.

Our New Enemies

I have a few words to say bearing on the present activities of the Universal Negro Improvement Association. We are now lined up for the work of a new year. Our members, friends and supporters everywhere must attune themselves to fighting the battles that must be fought in our march forward. The enemies of our cause have been fighting us on every hand, but we are glad to say that we have defeated them at every turn. The enemies, as you all know, are made up of some of the men whom we have dismissed from our service for dishonesty, disloyalty and general misconduct. We are glad to get rid of such men. They were responsible in a great measure for our movement being exposed to criticism, and now that they are out of the way we can breathe a freer atmosphere, in that we know that so many crooked characters are not within our ranks to handicap us by their acts. We prefer to know that we have but a few leaders who are honest and upright than to have one thousand dishonest ones whom we have to watch and keep guard over. It lessens our work to know that they are out and that we are not responsible for their acts.

We need not be afraid of the consequence, because men without probity can do no permanent harm to movements that are righteous and well founded.

Let us, therefore, girdle on our armor and go forth anew to battle in the interests of the Universal Negro Improvement Association.

With very best wishes I have the honor to

Your obedient servant,

MARCUS GARVEY

THE U. N. I. A.

IN the past four years and a half the Universal Negro Improvement Association has started the world by the miraculous manner in which it has organized nearly a thousand divisions and enrolled hundreds of thousands of members in different sections of the globe.

The skeptical will admit this, but will point to the failure of the Black Star Line, the pet child of the U. N. I. A. to realize the hopes and expectations of its founders and promoters. But we must remember that the U. N. I. A. and the Black Star Line are human and not divine institutions.

We must remember that a few years ago a Boston multi-millionaire was fleeced of a million dollars in a single deal by a copper syndicate. We must remember that George Westinghouse, the famous inventor and founder of the Westinghouse Electric Company, was twice on the verge of bankruptcy.

Then, again, it has been claimed that the U. N. I. A. pays too high salaries. Possibly the salaries voted at the first International Convention of Negroes in 1920 were too high. But the salaries voted in 1922 do not seem to be too high.

ROBES AND TITLES

Then, again, much has been said pro and con regarding creating dukes and knights and wearing gorgeous robes of scarlet and purple, splashed with green. Here, again, a wholesome principle underlies the wearing of these robes and the conferring of titles and honors.

BELLE GARDE AT LEAGUE OF NATIONS

THE news was flashed over the wires last Saturday that "Hayti took the front rank in the debates of the Assembly when Delegate Bellegarde of that country took the floor today and made the most eloquent speech of the session.

"The Haytian impressed the Assembly as no other orator has done when he asked if it were possible that women and children could be slaughtered by airplanes, bombs and machine guns operated by mandatories under the authority of the League of Nations."

This hit of news gave us pleasure, for two reasons. Frequently when men of color sit in white assemblies they are dignified ornaments. They look wise and say nothing.

THE GRIM REAPER

THE Grim Reaper in the closing days of August and the opening days of September cut off three men of color who had rounded out their career and one body who was in the midst of her career.

Bishop Fallows was eighty-six; was born in Pendleton, Lancashire, England, December 13, 1835, and came to America in 1843. He served as chaplain in the Civil War, was vice-president of Coleridge (Wig.) University; was eight times elected preaching bishop of the Reformed Episcopal Church; was chaplain-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1907 and 1908; was an author of note and distinction, and was one of the editors of Webster's Encyclopedic Dictionary.

Dr. E. C. Morris was born in Murray county, Georgia, May 7, 1855. He was trained in the public schools of Alabama and Roger Williams. In the year 1876 he was ordained to the Baptist ministry and called to the pastorate of the Centennial Baptist Church of Helena, Ark.

THE NEGRO AS A MANUFACTURER

SOME pessimists point to the failure of a Negro bank, really company, hotel or restaurant here and there as an indication of the business possibilities of the Negro.

Twenty-five years ago colored men could be found doing business on a small scale as farmers, contractors, caterers, barbers and grocery store and restaurant proprietors. They did very well as retail dealers. They did not, however, attempt manufacturing on a large scale. This they did not, however, attempt manufacturing on a large scale.

ATTORNEY J. W. SCHEEN, OF BOSTON, MASS., CHOSEN ASS'T U. S. DISTRICT ATTY.

BOSTON, Sept. 8, 1922.—John W. Scheen, of Boston, Massachusetts, has been chosen Assistant United States District Attorney for the Southern District of Massachusetts by Attorney General Daugherty.

But the Negro's most successful venture in manufacturing has been along the line of hair and toilet preparations. The late Mme. C. J. Walker of New York and Mrs. Aaron Malone of St. Louis, Mo., with her Florio preparations, each scattered agents throughout the country and reaped a fortune through preparations for beautifying the hair.

Editorial Notes

TO the Editor: I am writing you to advise you that I am now so "prominent" in the Buffalo News and the same person whom the government during the late war snatched balding hair for the manufacture of airplane propellers.

Competition is now so keen that a man may make a good living out of retail business, but he usually only becomes wealthy through out-of-the-ordinary means—buying at wholesale and selling at retail, digging into the soil and bringing up gold, silver, diamonds, coal and copper, or boring into the soil and bringing up oil, turning the raw product into the manufactured article, and transporting goods by rail or water.

THE FIELD for the colored manufacturer is almost limitless. He needs to master chemistry in all its branches and apply that knowledge to turning the manufacture of articles of value. He needs to master agriculture, also, that in the near future colored men will venture into the field as cotton manufacturers.

GREAT CONVENTION BY GREAT PEOPLE AT A GREAT TIME

By SIR ROBERT L. POSTON, Secretary-General of the U. N. I. A.

WE met in New York during the month of August and fought our battles at the Third International Convention. We fought out these battles upon principle, accepting our lot like those accustomed to the rules of the game. None of us got all we wanted, though some of us got more than we wanted.
